REDMOND

Declares Ireland Still Rebellious and Freedom Only Will Work Change.

Nothing Short of Antonomy Will Satisfy and Lead to Peace.

People to Be Urged to Cease the Use of British Goods.

LARDNER ELECTED TO PARLIAMENT

John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists in the House of Commons, delivered an address at Wexford last Sunday at the ceremony attending the unveiling of a memorial to Wexfordians who fell at the battle of New Ross in 1798. He gave a definite warning to British statesmen, saying:

"We tell England that we hate her rule bitterly, as did our forefathers when they shed their blood on this spot. We tell her that we are as much rebels to her rule today as our forefathers were in '98. We tell her that she can change that hatred only by granting freedom, and so long as she withholds freedom it will remain merely a question of expediency how and by what means we will strike at the power that holds our country in bondage."

On Thursday of last week in Dublin sixty-four representatives of the districts of seven members of the House of Commons attended a meeting of the National Directory of the United Irish League. John E. Redmond presided, and the object of the meeting was to organize an Irish protest against the continuous denial of self-government for Ireland. Great unity of purpose was shown, and it was resolved to hold a series of monster demonstrations throughout Ireland to indorse the declaration of the national convention that nothing short of national autonomy will satisfy the Irish people and lead to peace and contentment, as well as to impress on the minds of the English statesmen the necessity of finding some acceptable settlement of the question.

The people are to be urged to cease the use of British manufactures and to insist that the children be taught the Irish language in the schools. Besides approving a number of other planks in the national policy, resolution was unanimously adopted expressing confidence in the Irish party and approval of its withdrawal from the Liberal alliance.

The directory, however, rejected by a vote of eighty to seven a motion inviting the co-operation of William O'Brien, M. P. for Cork, and Timothy Healy, M. P. for the North division of Louth, and rejected also by a vote of eighty to four a motion favoring the retirement of the Nationalist members from Parliament, which has strongly advocated by some of the most extreme members of the league. Special thanks were voted to Irishmen of Jarrow for the lead given to Irishmen in Great Britain in emphasizing their dissatisfaction with the Government, whose surrender to pernicious influences within and without the Cabinet and the House of Lords was denounced.

At North Monaghan Mr. Lardner, the local candidate, was elected to Parliament, unopposed, in accordance with Chairman Redmond's advice.

ALL GOOD MEN.

Mackin Council Sends Strong Delegation to Owensboro Convention.

The fact that Mackin Council was to elect delegates and alternates Tuesday night to the Kentucky Grand Council that meets at Owensboro next August brought out an unusually large attendance of members. President Sand occupied the chair and dispatched the business with promptness. Sixteen names were presented, and from them the following delegates and alternates were chosen: Ben J. Sand, John Farrell, Vincent Falisi, Robert T. Burke, Charles I. Cate, Charles F. Raily, William M. Higgins, George J. Lautz, Samuel L. Robertson and Frank Deuser.

This was the first meeting for some time without an application for membership. Will Quill, George Kieffer and John Bohn were reported yet ill but improving. Louis Kieffer stated that the Choral Club would soon submit a complete report of its affairs and would surprise the council. Announcement was made that everything was ready for the sunset excursion on Saturday evening, July 6. Tickets will be sold only at the club house and boat.

Mackin ratified the acts of its members of the Joint Committee and asked them to secure special rates if possible to the Grand Council convention. Joseph Lenihan, Grand Director and member of Salloli Council, was a visitor and upon entering the members greeted him with hearty applause.

HOLY LIFE ENDS.

After spending thirty-five years in the holy priesthood the Rev. Father Augustine Beyer, for the past five years assistant at St. Boniface church, this city, was last Sunday called to his heavenly reward. Four weeks before he suffered from a paralytic attack and was removed to St. Anthony's Hospital, where he was tenderly cared for and received the most skillful medical attention, but without avail. Father Augustine was born in Cincinnati in 1849, and entered the Franciscan order in 1872. Before coming to this city he had done much missionary work and was the pastor of different large congregations. Surviving him are two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Nathan and Sister Mary Catherine, stationed at the Notre Dame convent in Boston, and one brother, Joseph Beyer, of Cincinnati. Wednesday morning solemn funeral services were held with a large number of clergy assisting at the high mass of requiem, after which the remains were laid to rest in St. Michael's cemetery.

COMMENCEMENT

Exercises Significant of the Success of Columbian College.

Columbia College, the new Catholic college of Kentucky, which was established at Owensboro in September last, closed its first year's work on June 19, with exercises held at the Grand Theater, and the commencement was significant of the success of the college. The programme, which was rendered before a large audience, embraced a short drama, three addresses, several music numbers and four athletic exhibitions by Prof. Boquet's athletic class. Academic diplomas were conferred upon Guy Joseph Aud, Francis Xavier Argast and Richmond Dennis Cooke, and a commercial diploma upon Charles Carroll Steele, the only recipient out of a large class.

The commencement address was delivered with brevity, strength and eloquence by Rev. George M. Connor, who was a boyhood friend of the President of the college, and to whom is due very much of the popularity and success of the institution, which in its first year enrolled eighty-one students, and bids fair next session almost to double that number. The college conducts the regular courses as found in the higher Catholic institutions, having full classical and commercial courses, and a fine course in higher mathematics and theoretical mechanics to fit students for good work later in all engineering fields. Commercial students follow commercial branches exclusively. Latin, Greek, German and French are taught, and one of the ancient and one of the modern languages are necessary to take a degree. As students come from a distance a boarding department, under immediate care of the professors, has been established, and therein regular hours for play, study and sleep are observed by all. This is in a fine, modern building, situated on a height overlooking the town and occupying a site of fourteen acres.

AROUSING THEIR IRE.

Thos. Dolan of Games Committee Throws Gauntlet Down to No. 4.

Thomas Dolan, Chairman of the field day games committee, aroused the ire of the members of Division 4, A. O. H., at their meeting on Wednesday evening by stating that he believed that that division had no men capable of making a showing in the games on July 22 at Ninaweb Park. Several members arose at once and wanted to fill an entry blank right away for the different events, some of them stating that Division 4 not only had the best runners and jumpers but that they had the best tug-of-war team in the State.

In the absence of President Joseph P. McGinn and Vice President Stephen J. McElliot, John H. Hennessy and Pat Kenealey filled the respective positions. Ben Cosgrove, Tom Niland and John Walsh were obligated as members, and in this connection it might be stated that John Hennessy and Tom Lynch have started quite a little boom in Division 4 for new members and have several applications at every meeting. The members are evincing great interest in the field day and indications point to a big success.

STANDS GOOD CHANCE.

T. P. O'Connor, the only Irish Nationalist member of Parliament representing an English constituency, will probably lose that distinction, as the Irish voters of Jarrow have nominated Alderman O'Hanlon as a candidate for the vacancy in the House of Commons. Every party will have a candidate for Jarrow, the Conservatives, Liberals and Labor parties having already men in the field. As there are 17,000 voters on the list, of which the Nationalists claim 4,000, the Home Rule candidate will have a good fighting chance.

ANOTHER SHERIDAN RECORD.

Martin J. Sheridan, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, established a new world's record for throwing the discus at the Mayo Men's games at Celtic Park New York City. He hurled the Greek plate 136 feet 10 inches, beating his own record made at Montreal last year by seventeen inches.

ELEVEN FINISHED COURSE.

Tuesday the closing exercises of the Sacred Heart commercial school were held, with the parents and many friends of the girl graduates present.

Those who received certificates were Misses Carmel Mahoney, Mary A. Banet, Margaret Gavin, Mary Dalton, Mamie Filburn, Mamie Keyer, Emma Warren, Nina Pilon, Margaret Klein, John, Clara Kennedy and Agnes Denny. For several days people of the parish visited the school to inspect the work of the pupils, and on all sides the fine exhibit was highly praised. Father Walsh certainly has an excellent school.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Celebrated With Same Pastor and Church of Fifty Years Ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Sullivan, of 1256 Hepburn avenue, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday morning at St. John's church at 8 o'clock with a solemn high mass, Rev. Father Bax acting as officiant, and that which makes it one of the most remarkable incidents in Catholic circles here is that Rev. Father Bax united them in marriage June 28, 1857, just fifty years ago, in the same church, St. John's, at Clay and Walnut streets. Truly a remarkable case and a record that is not often surpassed.

Both members of this good old couple were born in Ireland, Mrs. Sullivan being a native of Limerick and Mr. Sullivan from Cork, she being sixty-eight years of age and Mr. Sullivan seventy-one. They have had ten children, three of whom are now living, two being nuns, Sister Mary Martha and Sister Thomas Marie, and a third daughter, Mrs. Dan J. Hennessy. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan are both enjoying good health and it is the fondest wish of their many friends that they will live to celebrate their diamond wedding anniversary.

IRISH BEAUTY

Captured Prize at Kentucky Press Association Meeting.

The Kentucky Press Association, which held its annual meeting last week at Estill Springs, by a vote decided that Miss Catherine Dowling, of Lawrenceburg, was the prettiest girl over a large number of contestants from various parts of the State, including a number of the reigning belles of the Bluegrass section. The vote was by ballots which were given each member, who wrote thereon their choice. Miss Dowling's plurality was fifteen votes over her nearest competitor, who was Miss Catherine O'Connell, of Owensboro. The prize is indelibly stamped on every feature of this Irish-American beauty. She is a striking brunette, with a form like the Venus of Milo, and in every way fulfills Fenelon's ideal:

"A woman, loveliest of the lovely kind, perfect and complete in mind."

Miss Dowling is a Catholic and proud of the fact that her parents came from the land that makes people great. Our regret is that we are unable to print her picture in connection with this article.

MEMPHIS.

Campaign to Secure Two Delegates to Next Grand Council.

President George Lawo of the Memphis Young Men's Institute, last week started an earnest campaign to secure twenty-three new members for the council there. This is being done to increase the membership and thereby entitle Chickasaw Council to two delegates to the Grand Council to be held at Owensboro in August. The new members must be enrolled before July 1.

When the council went to holy communion in a body at St. Patrick's church Rev. Father Francis Sullivan celebrated mass and preached the sermon. As his subject he chose, "In unity there is power, and in power there is strength." Father Sullivan informed the congregation of the ritual of the Y. M. I. and its purpose and benefits. He asked the mothers to make their sons join and to have their daughters encourage the society by their presence at their entertainments, for by meeting each other at these little gatherings the Catholic young ladies and gentlemen would become more acquainted with one another and from such gatherings may result more Catholic marriages, and not as it is now, so many unfortunate marriages. Father Sullivan asked the members to stand united, and in closing his sermon he asked God to bless and protect the society.

LIKES OUR CITY.

B. Joseph O'Donnell, the popular State President of the New York Master Plumbers' Association, and his amiable wife, were here this week attending the master plumbers' convention. They were highly pleased with the city and the treatment accorded them, and returned to their home in Syracuse with regret that they could not stay longer. Mr. O'Donnell was at all times prominent figure in the convention, and it need not be surprising if some day he is made President of the national organization.

RECEIVE PALLIUM.

The pallium will be conferred upon Archbishop Quigley in July. The ceremony will be attended by a number of prelates, priests and laymen, and promises to be one of the notable ecclesiastical events of the year.

CATHOLIC

Educational Convention to Be Held at Milwaukee This Year.

Notable Gathering of Educators Will Assemble There July 9.

Many Brilliant Addresses Will Be Delivered by Leading Educators.

MONSIGNOR O'CONNELL WILL SPEAK

Many of the best known Catholic educators will attend the fourth annual convention of the Catholic Educational Association, which meets in Milwaukee July 9, 10 and 11. There will be addresses and discussions by noted Catholics, both clergy and laymen, covering practically all important Catholic educational work.

Among the well known members of the Catholic church who will attend the convention will be Mgr. D. J. O'Connell, rector of the Catholic University, Washington, D. C.; Archbishop S. G. Messmer; the Rev. Francis J. Finn, S. J., a noted writer and professor of rhetoric at St. Xavier's College, Cincinnati; Bishop Louis S. Walsh, of Boston; and the Rev. F. W. Howard, Superintendent of the parish schools of Columbus, Ohio. The convention will be formally opened with a solemn pontifical high mass celebrated by Archbishop Messmer at the Church of the Gesu on Tuesday morning, July 9. After the mass Mgr. O'Connell will deliver an address in the Marquette College. After the preliminary work members of the college department and seminary department will hold a joint meeting in the assembly room of Marquette College.

One of the important subjects that will engage the attention of the convention is the teaching of deaf mutes. The work of Catholic educators will be discussed. Educational legislation in the United States will form the subject at another meeting that will be of interest to all the members. The principal address at this meeting will be made by Prof. W. C. Robinson, of Washington, whose subject will be "The Relation of the Catholic Church to the State." The convention will be brought to a close by a mass meeting at which known speakers will deliver addresses.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Sixty American Members of the Order See Pope Plus.

Sixty Knights of Columbus from some twenty States arrived in Paris on June 22. Landing at Naples on April 27, they have been traveling ever since without the slightest hitch, and have visited in turn Naples, Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan, the Lakes Lucerne, Interlaken, Munich, Amsterdam, Berlin, Frankfurt, Cologne, The Hague and Brussels. At Rome they had an audience of the Pope, who spoke individually with every member of the party and they had a chat with Cardinal Merry Val. Mr. Frank A. Gross, of Buffalo, is the leader of the party, who are going on to London.

AFTER THE PRIZE.

Division 3 Settling Pace That Will Make Others Hustle.

The last regular meeting of Division 3, A. O. H., was called to order by President James Coleman and was fairly well attended. Two candidates took the obligation and became members of the division. New members are secured every meeting, and according to Secretary Morris the Hibernians of Jefferson county are on the forward march and expect to make this the banner year of the order. Books for the Irish national game and summer festival at Ninaweb Park went like hot cakes, many members taking several of them. Since the committee has decided that the division selling the largest number of tickets for this celebration will receive a gold prize, Division 3 has gone after it in earnest, and it is now up to the others to hustle if they would stand a chance of winning. To the surprise of nearly all members the hall at Ninaweb and Main is the coolest and most comfortable Division 3 has ever occupied.

SODALITY RECEIVED.

Last Sunday morning at the Sacred Heart church the Boys' Sodality just organized by Father Walsh received holy communion in a body. There were seventy-five of the little fellows and the sight they presented was pleasing not only to their parents but to every member of the congregation.

MARY MULLANEY DEAD.

Sleep eternal came last Sunday to Mrs. Mary Mullaney, a devout and respected member of St. Louis Bertrand's parish, who for years resided at 1210 Zane street. She had suffered long and patiently and was fully prepared for the final summons. Mrs. Mullaney was a woman of kindly heart and disposition and her death is deeply deplored in the neighborhood where she lived. Surviving her are five sons—Patrolman John, Dominick, Patrick, Thomas and James Mullaney. The funeral services were held in St. Michael's cemetery.

MT. ST. MARY'S.

Kentuckians Prominent in Historic Catholic Educational Institution.

Kentuckians are making a bright page in Mt. St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg, which last week held its ninety-ninth annual commencement amid scenes of splendor and before hundreds of visitors. St. Mary's is one of the most historic and far famed Catholic educational institutions in this country, and it is pleasing to know that its President, the Very Rev. Dennis J. Flynn, A. M., LL. D., is a thorough Kentucky Irish-American and a Knight of Columbus. Father Flynn is well known and very popular here, being a Louisville boy—one of Father Bax's boys. Another prominent Louisville man a member of St. Mary's faculty is the Rev. John J. Tierney, D. D. He is a brother of Thomas Tierney, of this city, and is one of the most brilliant men in the country. Father Tierney is a member of the Board of Examiners of the Catholic University at Washington, and is an associate editor of the new Catholic Encyclopedia. His nephew, Thomas Tierney, Jr., is a student of the Mountain College, Edward, Harry and Ross Kirwan, sons of Martin Kirwan, Melwood avenue, are also students there. These four boys have had a very successful year and are now home for their vacation. Francis Devine, of Maysville, who took a special prize, did not return, but will spend the summer in the East. Edward Kirwan will enter the department of philosophy when he returns this fall.

Emmet B. Kennedy, another Louisville boy who has finished his second year in theology, is making his mark, and received the special degree of A. M. He will remain there during the vacation and make special studies in history and Semetic languages.

Next year, the centennial, will be a great one at Mt. St. Mary's, as Fathers Flynn and Tierney will celebrate the silver jubilee of their ordination at the same time. Both are expected to visit here during the summer.

TRINITY COUNCIL

Amended Articles of Incorporation Will Soon Be Ready.

Though there was only a fair attendance at the meeting Tuesday night Trinity Council held an interesting business session and acted upon several important matters. President Joseph Conkling occupied the chair and announced that the amended articles of incorporation would soon be ready for submission to the members. The visiting committee reported Messrs. Cornelius Lane, Harry Kirchdorfer and Edward Kelly on the sick list, but none were in serious condition. Andrew Kieffer made a partial report on the White City outing, stating that the affair was quite a success.

Upon motion it was decided to hold the election for delegates to the Grand Council on Wednesday night, July 9. Trinity will send three representatives this year, and as the honor is one that is much coveted an interesting contest is most certain. The proposition to run a special train from this city to Owensboro when the Grand Council meets there in August met with great favor, and the council pledged its members to do their share in bringing out a good crowd and making it a success. The other business was of a routine nature.

MASTER OF ARTS.

At the closing exercises held at St. Mary's College, in Marion county, the degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon Thomas Walsh, our local lawyer and poet, which will be a source of gratification to Tom's many friends, who think that there is nothing too good for him. At the banquet following the exercises an address was delivered by Congressman Ben Johnson, who also acted as toastmaster, and toasts were responded to by Attorney W. L. Spalding, Lebanon, and Thomas Walsh, the aforesaid M. A.

FIRST MILITARY OUTING.

Tickets are out for the first annual outing of Kadeski Company C, Uniform Rank, C. K. of A., to be given August 29 at Fern Grove. The Knights expect to make this their initial celebration one of rare pleasure. The list for membership in this company is, still open, and all wishing to become members should avail themselves of this opportunity. The officers are now negotiating with one of the foremost drillmasters in the city, and they promise that Company C will soon rank first in local military circles.

SAD WAS HIS END.

Sad indeed was the sudden and unexpected death of Thomas Ryan, brother of the late John J. Ryan, briefly noted last week. Deceased was born in Galway, Ireland, thirty-five years ago, coming to Louisville at the age of fifteen. He was arranging for his first visit to the old land and spent the evening before his death with relatives in preparation for the journey and in the best of spirits. For the past ten years Mr. Ryan had been with the Struck Lumber Company, which as a mark of respect closed its plant that the men might attend the funeral. Though of an unobtrusive nature he was popular with his associates and his exemplary life won him many friends. He was very much devoted to his brother, and by many it is thought that grief over his death was the cause of the fatal heart attack. He was a cousin of John J. and James Ryan and a brother of Mrs. John Furey and Mrs. J. Eiffer. His one hope was to visit Ireland and he expected to leave here on July 6 to spend the summer there.

HISTORIC CROSS.

Valuable Relic of Missionary Days Unearthed in Northern Indiana.

S. L. Hackett, a druggist of Roanoke, Ind., has in his possession an elaborately engraved silver cross that was recently dug from the ground near the town of Allen, Allen county. It is supposed that the cross came from an old grave and that it was probably buried many years ago, either with a Jesuit priest or with an Indian who had become converted to the Catholic faith by the Jesuits. The cross was found near the locality where a powerful tribe of Miami Indians once flourished. "A great many years ago," said Mr. Hackett, "the Government built a house up there for Chief Raccoon. It consisted of two rooms. Afterward when the State was divided into counties, it was found that the line between Allen and Whitley counties ran squarely through the premises that had once been occupied by Chief Raccoon. One room of the house was in Allen county and the other in Whitley. A Justice of the Peace discovered this fact one night as he was about to perform a marriage ceremony. He was an Allen county Justice. He was about to perform the ceremony in the room that stood in Whitley county. Concluding that he had no right to go over into another county and perform the marriage ceremony he had the wedding party move into the other room."

INDICATIONS.

Point To a Most Successful Field Day For the A. O. H.

The picnic and field day committee for the Ancient Order of Hibernians met last Sunday afternoon at the residence of D. J. Coleman and heard reports from the different subcommittees on prospects for success. County President John A. Murphy called the meeting to order with John J. Barry as Secretary. Messrs. George Buer, D. J. Coleman, Thomas Dolan, P. J. Welsh, John F. Morris, John Hession, Thomas D. Cline and William Meehan reported on their different committee appointments, games, theaters and dancing. The following assignments were given the divisions for the day of the picnic: Division 1—Refreshments. Division 2—The gate. Division 3—Privileges. Division 4—Roller coaster and theater.

The different divisions are requested to select members who will take their turn at the above concessions in assisting the committee. The games committee reported that challenges and entry blanks had been sent to every Catholic society in the three Falls cities and that many entries were expected for the different events, which would be the means of creating a good natured rivalry and promoting good fellowship in the different societies.

KNIGHTS' SOCIAL SESSION.

Branch 25, Catholic Knights of America, will have a social session at their hall, Clay and Walnut, next Monday night, to which all the branches are invited. President Meehan will dispatch the more important business and the social session will begin early. Several speakers have been invited, among them Gen. Michael Reichert, who will give an instructive talk pertaining to the last national convention, rates, interest, etc. This will be a good opportunity for all who wish to gather information or ask questions.

SUNSET ON THE RIVER.

Mackin Council will give no picnic or outing this season, but instead a reunion and sunset excursion up the river on Saturday, July 6. This affair will be given more for the pleasure of the members and their friends than to make money, and for all an enjoyable evening is promised. A band will accompany the council and there will be light refreshments and dancing. The boat will leave the foot of Third street at 5 o'clock and return at a reasonable hour. This excursion will be under the auspices of the Gymnasium Club.

PLEASANT RECEPTION.

Company A, Uniform Rank, C. K. of A., tendered the lady friends of its members and Company C a most delightful reception Wednesday night, for which an excellent programme had been arranged. Lieut. Oscar Meyer welcomed the visitors and short addresses were delivered by Gen. Reichert, Capt. Hund and William T. Meehan. Vocal solos and duets were rendered by Thomas Nolan and Eugene Ford, after which the ladies were served with refreshments.

CHILD LABOR.

The Law in Kentucky Is Being Enforced With Good Results.

Inspector Thomas J. Scally Has Done Good Work For Children.

Next Legislature May Strengthen and Give Act Wider Scope.

A MATTER OF VITAL CONCERN

It is to the credit of the State of Kentucky that in recent years it has taken advance steps in the matter of regulating child labor and for the better protection of men, women and children in the mines, factories and workshops of the State. Kentucky is not so far advanced in this respect as Massachusetts or some of the Northern States, but she is getting along well, and the next Kentucky Legislature will no doubt strengthen the present act. Under the State factory inspection system, which now obtains, it is the fault of employees themselves if their workshops are not well ventilated and provided with sanitary appliances, also separate dressing rooms and lavatories for women. Thomas J. Scally, of Louisville, who is attending to the inspection in this city and in several other cities of the State, has performed some excellent work. He has seen that children under age are not allowed to work in factories.

The whole country seems to be taking an interest in child labor since Senator Beveridge brought the subject up in Congress.

The national conference of charities and correction has been asked to use its influence toward the enactment of a national law against child labor. By child labor is meant that of children under fourteen years of age. The legislation which is urged contemplates the exclusion of "child made goods" from interstate commerce. The members of the conference were not given an accurate intimation of those goods. No such intimation has been given at any time but there is need of one. Child labor appears in one of its most repulsive forms in the anthracite mines of the State. Many of the "breaker boys" themselves by permitting the employment of "breaker boys." If it had not been dominated by the anthracite trust it would not have allowed their employment to continue. But though the coal is handled by boys it would be stretching a point to include it among "child made goods." The work of mining is done by men. Only the finishing touches fall to the lot of the "breaker boys." There are industries where a manufacturer does not himself employ child labor, but uses raw or half finished materials on which child labor has been employed. One would like to know whether the finished product should be classified as "child labor."

Some of the advocates of a national child labor law ask for the exclusion from interstate commerce not merely of "child made goods" but the goods, of factories employing young children. If that were to be done a factory making many kinds of goods but using children in the manufacture of only one or two kinds, would find its entire product excluded from all markets except that of its own State. The employment of children under the age of fourteen can be directly prohibited by the States. Some of them have prohibited it, and others are moving in that direction. The National Government can not directly prohibit the employment of such children except in the District of Columbia and the Territories. It can act only in a roundabout way through the interstate commerce law. Direct methods are usually more efficacious and satisfactory than indirect methods. Before Federal legislation shall be resorted to the subject should receive more thorough consideration than has been given it.

IRISH EARLDOM

As Well as Large Estate May Come to An L. & N. Machinist.

A special dispatch from Paris, Tenn., says that James Walters, one of the striking machinists at the Louisville & Nashville railroad machine shop in that city, has just received a letter from an uncle in England notifying him that he (Walters) has fallen heir to a large estate, and possibly an earldom in Ireland. Mr. Walters informed a correspondent that he has sent for a certified copy of the will and full particulars. While there may be some doubt in regard to the succession of the title, Mr. Walters says there is no doubt about his getting a large part of the estate under the will.

VISITS FRIENDS HERE.

Rev. Father D. D. Miller, of New Burnside, Ill., was a visitor during the past week, he being quite well known here, having been stationed at St. William's just previous to his ordination, which took place last year. Father Miller states that he is well pleased with his present location, but that he always has a warm place in his heart for this town and the many friends he had made here.

SCHMITZ AN EXAMPLE.

Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, has been convicted of crime and will be deposed from office. Thus ends the career of a man who was raised from the rather lowly position of a bandmaster to be the chief executive of one of the greatest cities of our country. With much truth the Irish Standard says his downfall is peculiarly disappointing because he was placed in office by an independent movement of the labor unions and labor classes. His election was heralded throughout the country as a great victory for labor. He was extensively advertised as a reformer. He was pictured as the man who broke the corrupt Democratic and Republican machines of San Francisco. His enthusiastic supporters expected much from him and his administration. The history of his case shows that he and his leading supporters were hypocritical. They entertained the conception that public office was an opportunity for public graft. They used the labor slogan to put them in power. They played upon the prejudice of a class and used that prejudice to enrich themselves. Labor can not be held responsible for Mayor Schmitz. The great mass of people who supported him were honest and sincere. They made a great mistake by allowing a class prejudice to influence their political action. Mayor Schmitz was perhaps no worse than some other politicians that San Francisco has had in the past, but he was more clumsy. His conception of public office led him to believe it was an opportunity for collecting money from those who asked special privileges. When he got into the business he, no doubt, found that it was doing only what others before him had done. His inexperience led him to do it in a way which got him into trouble. He ought to be an example for labor movements all over the country. Labor agitators who enter into politics are generally dangerous, more dangerous than representative of special privileges, for the reason that they are usually more irresponsible from a financial standpoint. The dishonest labor agitator is worse than the dishonest representative of corporations for the reason that he is usually bought. His price is lower. The fate of Mayor Schmitz is unfortunate from the standpoint of labor because it has a tendency to characterize labor movements of all kinds.

START OUT RIGHT.

In a word to the June graduates the Catholic Citizen assures them their opportunities for advancement are better today than ever before. There is no ground for the presumption that a poor boy has little chance of success. Quite the contrary. The writer, from his personal experience with humanity, would prefer by far the chance of the poor boy's success in any walk of life to that of his more liberally supplied monetary classmate. By far the great majority of our great men are and have been sons of the honest middle class and poor, else they would never have possessed the fine physique and mental ability necessary to achieve success in this country of strenuous life. All walks of life are open to the honest and trustworthy boy and girl. The Catholic youth starting out in life must be ever ready to answer any question put to him concerning the ordinary doctrine of his Church. His non-Catholic friends will think him ignorant if he is not qualified to answer, and if he is, they will respect him the more for it. He must feel that as a citizen of these United States he has as good a right to voice his lawful sentiments as has his non-Catholic fellow citizen. If he enters the battle of life with a determination never to falter or turn back while following the course of truth, but march steadily forward regardless of whom he may please, success is sure to crown his efforts.

WORK FOR MANY.

Never before was there such a demand for labor in this country, and today no able bodied man need be idle except through his own choice. The Northwest both skilled and unskilled workers are wanted at the wages paid in the United States. Twenty thousand men are needed by the lumber mills operating in Eastern Washington and Oregon and Northern Idaho, and as many more are wanted by the Northern Pacific and other railroad companies building lines in that part of the Northwest. The situation has become so acute that unless men can be secured at once much construction work will be delayed and many of the mills will be forced to close, sending their laborers into the woods. To steady men a higher wage is offered than in any other part of the United States or Canada for similar work. The men in the woods receive from $45 to $75 a month and board, while in the mills this scale ranges from $3.50 to $10 a day. The great Northwest is full of golden opportunities for the energetic young man who seems to have no chance in the large cities.

One of the largest audiences that ever convened on a like occasion in this city gathered in the assembly hall of St. Xavier's College on Thursday night of last week to grace the annual commencement of this now famous local Catholic educational institution. The speeches of the graduates were excellent in matter and delivery, and were received with loud applause by the large audience. All who took part in the exercises acquitted themselves well, adding fresh laurels to the Xavierian Brothers, than whom there are no better teachers anywhere. Louisville is justly proud of this excellent college, that makes men of all its students.

Members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society in this city and throughout the country are much elated over the action of the National Convention of Charities and Corrections in electing to the Presidency Dr. Thomas Mulry, of New York City. Though entitled to only two, Kentucky was given eight places on prominent committees, those chosen being Thomas D. Osborne, George L. Sehon, Edward Grauman, Dr. M. K. Allen, Dr. George F. Sprague, Prof. B. B. Hutton, Mrs. Desha Breckinridge and Miss Louise Speed.

Word comes from Rome that the report is again circulating there that American Catholics are collecting funds to buy a strip of land between the Vatican and the Tyrrhenian Sea, so as to allow the Pope physical communication with the outside world without the interference of the State in which the Papacy now resides. This is the old Associated Press story that appears every year during the "silly season."

Louisville is not the only city that is having its governmental troubles. Last Saturday the Tennessee Supreme Court handed down a decision holding that the new charter for the city of Memphis, adopted by the last session of the Legislature, is unconstitutional. Unless the Legislature convenes and remedies the defects the court points out the city will have no government and affairs will be awfully muddled.

Thursday morning the mandate of the Court of Appeals, declaring vacant the offices of the city and county officials voted for in the election two years ago, was filed here. Soon thereafter God. Beckham announced the appointment of Robert W. Bingham to be Mayor of Louisville. Appointments for the other offices will not be made until today.

We congratulate the Executive Committee of the Kentucky State Development Association upon its selection of Hon. Edward J. McDermott for President. No man in the State is better equipped for the place, and if energy and zeal count for anything Kentucky will soon realize most satisfactory results.

Lebanon is now "dry," but reports from there say several barrels of "booze" are carried into the town in bottles and jugs every week. Prohibition always works that way.

CARDINAL TO GRADUATES.

In an address at the commencement exercises of the St. Cecilia Academy, Washington, Cardinal Gibbons said to the girl graduates: "You may save this country from irreparable injury by sanctifying and making pure the home. Most women's mission upon this earth is to become wives and mothers as well as daughters, and when they take up their new life they become the rulers of the home. Without a home circle, pure and sacred, no nation can become great."

To remove grass stains, if fresh, wash in ammonia and water; if old, wash in alcohol; if color is in danger, apply molasses. Use a paste of soap and cooking soda for white goods.

Few weddings have been of greater interest in West End Catholic society circles than that of Miss Nell Cunningham and Joseph McWilliams, which was solemnized Wednesday at St. Patrick's church by the Very Rev. Father Cronin, V. G. The bride and groom are extremely popular and the church was thronged with friends who came to offer congratulations. Following the ceremony there was a large attended reception and wedding feast at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Patrick T. Sullivan, 125 Sprague street. ## AUSTIN WALSH.

Would Serve Real Interest of the People in Next Legislature.

Austin E. Walsh, a well known young attorney of the local bar who is associated with his brother, Thomas Walsh, in the practice of law, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Representative representative from the Fifty-first legislative district, composed of the Eleventh and Twelfth wards. Austin Walsh is a young lawyer of recognized ability in his chosen profession, and above all is recognized as a man of absolute honesty, integrity and fidelity to sound principles in both private and public life, and therefore if he is elected he is certain to serve the best interests of his constituents regardless of favor, fear or faction. He is a prominent member of Mackin Council and is likewise a valued member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, with whose work he has been strongly identified since his admission into their ranks. He has a large personal following in the district, and we confidently predict that he will secure the nomination. He enters the race without pledges to any man or set of men, but does pledge himself that he shall in the event of his election serve the real interests of the people.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Last Sunday was the date set for the initiation of the new class for Arkansas Valley Council at La Junta.

Right Rev. P. J. Muldoon, D. D., Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago, has been selected to act as State Chaplain for the Illinois State officers.

Work has been commenced on a five-story building, 48x100 feet, of stone and pressed brick, for the council at Youngstown, Ohio.

Colorado Springs Knights will have a great Fourth of July celebration, with a monster parade and outing at Cheyenne Springs and a fireworks display at night.

The two councils at Syracuse continue to increase their membership. Syracuse Council conferred the first degree on a large class last week, and Le Moyne gave the second Wednesday night.

Buffalo Knights are planning for a big July outing, which will be participated in by the councils of that city. Niagara Falls, Lockport and Tonawanda. There will be a full programme of field sports, many arranged for women and children.

Savannah Council had an interesting session last Sunday, when a class of forty candidates was initiated. Several State and national officers and visiting Knights from Augusta, Macon, Atlanta, Columbus, Charleston and Jacksonville honored the occasion with their presence.

South Boston, Pere Marquette and Robert Fulton Councils will hold a field day at the Locust street grounds in Boston this afternoon. The field day is in aid of the Columbus Day Nursery, which was established by the two councils, and which has proven a wonderful help for the Catholic mothers of the district who are obliged to toil.

Everything is in readiness for the institution of the new council tomorrow at Sheridan, Wyoming. There will be between sixty and seventy in the class, thirty being insurance members. Sheridan is an excellent field for a council. It contains a splendid body of representative Catholic men and is now the second city in size in Wyoming, the population being over 10,000.

The Knights of Columbus minstrels was an unequalled success. It is safe to say that no better amateur show has ever been presented in Denver. The crowd that turned out to be proud of. The Broadway was packed and "standing room only" was the word long before the curtain rose. Other councils are anxious to have the performance repeated and the minstrels may visit Cheyenne and Fort Collins.

HINTS ON STYLE.

Monograms of metal are set on the handles of smart new parasols. Empire fashions still rule the choice of the nursery authorities.

One of the nicest of the new coats is in a modified riding habit cut. It covers the hips, the end of corset making a good length line.

New blouses are made of accordion plaited crepe de chine—very simple, soft and becoming. The elbow sleeves are plaited like the bow of the blouse.

Tan or dark gray oze forms the top for some of the smart black boots of the season and a pair of tights show uppers in a black and white check.

The arms of long silk gloves are embroidered in all-over sprays and vine designs and on some the upper edge is finished with an embroidered scallop.

Pink parasols have pink handles, blue parasols have handles of blue, and so on—every stick topped with a blossom as natural as life in the same shade.

Soft mull, voile and veillings in black are being worn now as mourning, and are quite as appropriate as crepe or cashmere, and for this season of the year are decidedly cooler and more comfortable.

The plaited skirt still holds its own for street wear, and its rival is the well fitted skirt with two circular frills. This is a pretty style for a striped fabric, and saves the necessity of matching the lines.

CLERKS AND CARRIERS.

The clerks and carriers of the local Post-office will have possession of the White City this afternoon and evening, and they invite all their friends to come and join them in a day of pleasure. These faithful public servants have a splendid local organization, and the proceeds will go to the fund for the relief of members who may become sick or disabled. When off duty they are a

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Massachusetts has 162 auxiliaries with a membership of over 13,000.

The South Boston divisions will have a big union initiation tomorrow.

The Massachusetts State officers report the assets of the 248 divisions at $451,398.

Deputy Assessor Joe Lenihan is rapidly acquiring a reputation as a silver-tongued orator.

If the picnic and field day is a success it will be the means of starting a boom for the order.

Members have leased the Railway

Block in New Britain, Conn., and will shortly start to remodel the same.

Minneapolis Hibernians are taking prominent part in athletic sports, having excellent baseball and football teams.

The entire picnic committee will hold their weekly meeting tomorrow at D. J. Coleman's, 1731 Portland avenue.

Every member of the order should dispose of his entire book of picnic

tickets and thereby insure a big success.

The division and auxiliary at South Manchester, Conn., are arranging for a fair during the month of October.

Every division reports a good sale of picnic tickets, and now it looks like the whole question is up to the weather man.

State President Rogers has increased the membership in Massachusetts over 1,000 during his first year in office.

County President Sullivan is making an effort to establish another division at Pueblo, Col., to represent the North Side.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Brockton,

Mass., numbering over 500, will entertain the officers of the County

Board tomorrow.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Pueblo,

Col., gave a delightful function at their hall and netted a nice sum for St. Patrick's church.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will meet

Wednesday evening and a delegation of the picnic committee will be on hand to solicit their help.

Exclusive of real estate, paraphernalia, banners, etc., the assets of the Ladies' Auxiliary at the close of the last year totaled $205,966.

Miss Anna Malla, National President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, expects the membership to reach 55,000 before the next national convention.

Monday the Ladies' Auxiliary of Milwaukee held a children's night, when members brought their little ones for an enjoyable evening.

D. J. Coleman, the hustling County

Board Treasurer, has been likened to a famous medicinal remedy—he works while some members sleep.

Tom Dolan told Division 4's members that if they were afraid to enter strenuous games that the committee would furnish them bean bags and croquet.

Division 4 of Syracuse wants to present the largest class for the examplification of the degrees to be held under the auspices of the County

Board in the early autumn.

Milwaukee Hibernians will hold their annual celebration at Schlitz

Park on Saturday, August 16. It is expected that the orator of the day will be Gov. Burke, of North Dakota.

The order continues to grow in St.

Paul. At their last meeting Divisions

1 and 4 initiated several candidates each and received more applications.

Division 6 held an open meeting Tuesday night and invited all eligible to join and share the good things associated with the order.

Decidedly the best thing the Irish

Standard ever witnessed among

Minneapolis Hibernians in the line of comic vaudeville was the programme that followed the conferring of the degrees on a class of seventy-five candidates last week. Upon the completion of the programme the Ladies'

Auxiliary served an excellent luncheon to all in the dining room.

The Presidents of the various divisions in the city of Yonkers met recently to devise ways and means to secure funds sufficient to erect a monument for their late State Chaplain, Rev. Bernard A. Brady, pastor of St. Joseph church, who died over a year ago. It was decided to request the County Board at the next regular meeting, which will be held in Port Chester, June 30, to apply to the State Board to levy a special assessment on all the divisions in the State of New York. The cost of this monument is estimated at $10,000 when completed; it will be a credit to the Irish race. Father Brady was widely known in Irish circles and beloved by the community at large, and this grand affair got up in his memory will let the world see that although he is dead he is not forgotten.

WHITE CITY TURNS.

The management of the White

City announces that the free vaudeville bill next week will be even better than the one offered twice daily at the popular resort this week.

The headline feature for the week will be Alex Seabert's Society Circus, a turn which was seen for several weeks at Luna Park, Coney Island, last year.

Prof. Bylke's trained seals and sealions have also been secured and will add an air of novelty to the bill. The pretty little Wellington sisters have been re-engaged for next week, having made a big hit with their singing and dancing specialty. This afternoon and tonight the clerks and carriers of this city will celebrate Postoffice day there and hold their annual outing.

RECENT DEATHS.

Cruel death last Sunday made deolate the home of Herman and Teresa

Kruze, Shelby and Madison streets, taking from them their infant daughter Emma, after an illness of brief duration. The funeral took place Tuesday morning from St.

John's church, and was attended by many sympathizing friends.

The funeral of Anton Gast, one of our oldest and most widely known

German Catholic citizens, took place

Friday morning from St. Mary's church. For many years this city has been his home, but because of his advanced age he had retired from business and resided with his wife at 1516 West Walnut street. Deceased was the father of Messrs. Jacob and Adam Gast.

It was with feelings of deep regret that the friends and acquaintances of John Dwyer learned of his death, which occurred last Saturday evening at the home of his mother, Mrs.

Bridget Dwyer, 1973 High avenue.

His death is a severe blow to the bereaved mother, who hoped to have him with her in her declining years.

The funeral took place Tuesday morning from St. Cecilia's church.

Michael and Mamie Savage, 2803

West Chestnut street, are mourning

the death of their bright infant son, whose soul entered into heavenly rest last Sunday morning. The news of their bereavement was a shock to their many friends, who called in large numbers to express their sympathy. Monday afternoon the remains were laid to rest in a flower covered grave in St. Louis cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Philomena

Eichler, for many years an esteemed resident of the West End and devout member of St. Anthony's church, took place Monday morning with a high requisite mass. She was the wife of Anton Eichler. Surviving her are five children—Joseph Eichler, Mrs. Louis

J. Kieffer, Mrs. George Beaverson,

Mrs. Ella Bonneville and Mrs. Carroll Lilly, with whom she made her home.

Michael Egan, aged sixty-two and a native of Ireland, but for many years an industrious and respected resident of Louisville, died Saturday morning at his home, 1728 Portland avenue, after an illness of long duration. Surviving him are his wife,

Mrs. Winifred Egan, two daughters,

Miss Ella Egan and Mrs. Mary Connors, and three sons, Messrs. Edward,

Michael and Joseph Egan. The funeral was held Monday from St. Patrick's church.

After an illness of more than three years' duration Mrs. Sarah O'Reilly, wife of Dr. J. Halpin O'Reilly, was released from her earthly sufferings last Sunday afternoon. She was born at Shadyside, this State, forty-nine years ago, but came to this city with her parents when a child and had lived here ever since, respected and loved by all who knew her. Besides the bereaved husband two sons, William and Halpin O'Reilly, and three daughters, Mrs. Henry Gilbert and Misses Fannie and Lucy O'Reilly, survive her. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning and the inter-

FORT WAYNE

Diocese Will Attain Its Fiftieth Anniversary In September.

On September 22 next the Diocese of Fort Wayne will attain the fiftieth anniversary of its erection. In some respects it is one of the prominent Sees of the country. Its first Bishop was Right Rev. J. H. Luers, D. D., who was consecrated on January 10, 1858, and who successfully directed its early extension for a period of over thirteen years, being called to his eternal reward on June 29, 1871. Next in succession was Right Rev. Joseph Dwenger, D. D., consecrated on April 14, 1872. Of the four Bishops of the See he exceeded all others in point of service many years, having been in discharge of its duties for twenty-one years. He died on January 22, 1893. Next came Right Rev. Joseph Rademacher, D. D., who was consecrated Bishop of Nashville, Tenn., on June 24, 1883, when he was transferred to Fort Wayne by Pontifical letters of that date, and who died January 2, 1900. And finally the present Bishop, Right Rev. Herman Joseph Alerding, D. D., who was consecrated on November 30, 1900. The Catholic population of the diocese is 81,000. Their spiritual wants are supplied by 197 priests. One hundred and ten churches have resident priests and forty-one missions have churches. There are six stations and forty-eight chapels. Religious orders have two seminaries. There are two colleges for boys and thirteen academies for young ladies. Eighty-two parishes have schools, with a total attendance of 14,130. In the diocese are twelve hospitals and two homes for old people.

MADE POLICEMEN SWIM.

All the north is laughing at an experience of the police at Lough Neagh, Ireland. An inter-county cock fight was arranged between birds from Londonderry and Antrim and was held on one of the islands on the Lough. The police got wind of it and arrived, as they usually do, late. All the available boats had been pressed into use by the spectators and the police after trying vainly to secure transportation to the island determined to swim for it. Just as they arrived the boat ended and every boat put off for the mainland again. The police had a swim back for their pains, and when they reached the mainland they found that their clothing, over which they had neglected to leave a guard, had disappeared. They had a ten mile march in dripping underclothes to the nearest barracks, where they were put to bed until new uniforms could be procured.

CHANGED THEIR TACTICS.

The enemies of the Catholic Church are not dead. They are merely quiescent. They have changed their tactics. Seldom is the Catholic Church openly attacked in these days, but in sly, subtle, insidious ways fundamental principles of Catholic faith and morality are daily and hourly attacked in the papers, magazines and books which pour from the press. And the pity of it is that comparatively few Catholics are aware of the fact that they are imbibing the most subtle moral and mental poisons concealed in the charming essays, stories or articles that are spread alluringly before them. Now the natural antidote to this poison is the Catholic newspaper in which Catholic principles are not only enunciated constantly, but are applied to the many questions which come up in the daily life of the world.

REFUSED MANSFIELD.

There died in a Washington Catholic convent not long ago, says an exchange, a nun who had taken the holy vows after she had refused the hand of Richard Mansfield, the actor. They had been sweethearts for years and it is said that for awhile they were engaged. Persons who knew her in Washington declare that she was one of the most devout Christians they had ever known. After she had entered the convent Mansfield never came to Washington that he did not send to her, with the permission of the convent authorities, great quantities of flowers. These she distributed among the hospitals for the poor.

KEY'S HOME.

Where Author of Star Spangled Banner Lived to Be Restored.

At Washington City a local association is making a strong effort to have preserved the former home of Francis Scott Key, the author of the "Star Spangled Banner," in Georgetown. The story of the starry banner has always proved intensely interesting, and to people of Washington it is doubly so on account of its close association with the old house on the Potomac which is familiar to the people. The old home in Georgetown, which Mr. Key left when he went to Baltimore, is still standing, but in a disgraceful state of preservation. Recently an association was organized for the purpose of acquiring and preserving to posterity this historic old place.

The old house is now verging on a state of decay. One parlor window is cut down and converted into a door, being an entrance to a cobbler's shop. Mr. Key's law office, to the right of the residence, is occupied by an Italian fruit and peanut stand. The house is literally plastered with signs advertising wares of various descriptions, while above the door and window of the first story is painted in bold letters, "The Key Mansion."

NEWSBOY TO SENATOR.

Bernard F. O'Neil, State Senator of Idaho from Shoshone, an ex-President of the Idaho Bankers' Association, who used to be a newsboy himself, recently dropped in at the Newsboys' Lodging House, in New Chambers street, New York City, and talked to the boys. He told them how bright their prospects were, and they must have felt encouraged when they found that he was a bank President three times over and an Idaho Committeeman. Twenty-five years ago, Mr. O'Neil told the newsboys, he lived on the lower East Side. Both of his parents were dead. He went with a party of wards who were about to start for Sibley, Iowa, where a motherly woman met him and took him home. Thence he went to her brother's ranch, where his early training was bronco busting and cow punching. After a time he left the ranch and sold hogs to pay his expenses through school.

SEARCH FOR CANNON.

Tradition still survives in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, that when Gen. John Sullivan marched through this region in 1779 on his expedition against the Indian confederacy of Central New York he buried some superfluous brass cannon along the Wilkesbarre mountains. To search for these revolutionary relics a number of the best known citizens of Ashley have formed themselves into an historical society. Recently the members scoured the mountain in the vicinity of Laurel run, but could find no relics except a few Indian arrow points.

PENON'S SMALL CHURCH.

At Penon, Mexico, a suburb of Mexico City, may be seen what is perhaps the smallest church in the world. It nestles under the shadow of a small volcano. The church is about ten feet high and twelve feet wide. Whenever a couple is married at the little altar of the church there is barely room for the bridegroom and bride to turn around at the same time.
